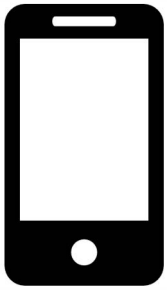
IS YOUR 9-1-1 ADDRESS POSTED?

Every second counts.
Clearly posted address numbers help emergency responders locate you.

For best visibility, we recommend:

- 6-inch reflective address numbers for rural properties.
- 3-inch numbers for properties in the city.
- Choose numbers that contrast with the background.
- Keep numbers unobstructed from landscaping, decorations, or other objects.
- If your home is set back or not visible from the road, post your address at the driveway entrance.

WHEN YOU CALL 9-1-1

When you call 9-1-1 from a landline phone at your home or business, the 9-1-1 address associated with that telephone service is automatically displayed to the dispatcher. Be prepared to confirm the address you are calling from.


When you call 9-1-1 from a cell phone, the address at your location may not automatically be displayed. While modern technology can often provide an estimated location, you should always be prepared to tell the dispatcher your exact location or address.
